Name:

Wai Yoong

Occupation:

Surgeon – Obs + Gynae

North Middlesex Hospital

I have various duties which I perform including delivering babies, seeing patients in clinic and surgery for which I spend a lot of time seated. I continued to have spinal problems with my back following surgery until I tried colleagues Bambach. I now sit for long periods of time on the Bambach in a confined working area and my spinal position has improved and the pain has lessened, due to being able to lean forward whilst keeping good spinal position, instead of the bending I used to do with a conventional seat.

How did you find out about The Bambach Saddle Seat?

The Back Care Advisor at the hospital initially, but I then borrowed a Bambach from Ultrasound and found that it made a significant difference to my back pain.

What made you try the Bambach?

I had a back problem and I was assessed by The Occupational Health department who suggested I needed a new seat. I had already tried a Bambach which I borrowed from the Ultrasound Department and as I found this very comfortable I decided to take advantage of Bambach's 30 day free trial.

Has using the Bambach addressed the problems you wanted to overcome?

It has helped considerably and now I find I can work for longer periods in comfort and my back problems have diminished.

Comments

When I got my own trial seat, I let ultrasound have their one back!

Would you recommend The Bambach Saddle Seat to fellow professionals?

Yes, definitely – it's great.
